ConventionSouth's Directory of Meeting Sites 2026-2027 edition is your year-long guide to some of the South's top destinations and venues for meetings and events. This annual directory contains valuable information and details you need to know when seeking the perfect place for your group to combine business with fun. In addition, our Event Planners' Guides, featured in most issues, include in-depth information and the latest meeting news about each state throughout the South.

For quick and easy access to Southern site-selection information, visit our website, ConventionSouth.com, where you will find our online directory, along with news, features, industry reports, and information about Rendezvous South, our annual relationship-building conference.

Locate Eco-Friendly Sites

Choose an eco-friendly destination and venue for your next green meeting. Look for this symbol throughout the directory for eco-friendly meeting options.

How this directory is organized:

- Destinations within each state are listed alphabetically.
- Then, CVBs are listed first within each city or regional selection.
- Next, convention or conference centers without guest rooms are listed.
- These are followed by hotels, resorts, conference centers with guest rooms, and unique venues, all of which are listed in alphabetical order.
- Bureaus, centers, and sites noted in color and in larger typeface have updated their listing information and are actively seeking your business. The ConventionSouth team has made all efforts to provide the most up-to-date information. In addition, the online directory at ConventionSouth.com is updated throughout the year to reflect the most current information.

Concerts in the Park in downtown Huntsville

Montgomery's riverfront

By D. Fran Morley

Planners who want to host an event in “Sweet Home Alabama” can pick from versatile, tech-forward facilities, including the Birmingham-Jefferson County Convention Center Complex, Huntsville’s Von Braun Center, and the Arthur R. Outlaw Mobile Convention Center. Alabama is a growing hub for aerospace, automotive, and technology, and its well-seasoned tourism and hospitality industry makes it a great choice for pre- or post-event family vacations.

Unique offsite event settings include multiple venues at the Birmingham Zoo, capable of hosting up to 5,000 guests; OWA Park & Resort in Foley, an amusement park with multiple venues including a 430-seat theater; and the U.S. Space & Rocket Center in Huntsville, where event attendees can dine beneath a Saturn V moon rocket.

In Huntsville, downtown’s Von Braun Center has more than 170,000 square feet of event space, a 10,000-seat arena, a 2,153-seat concert hall, and is connected to Embassy Suites by Hilton Huntsville. Campus No. 805, a refurbished high school, now features a brewery, restaurants, retail, entertainment venues, and multiple indoor and outdoor event spaces for up to 1,200 guests.

The 350,000-square-foot Birmingham-Jefferson Convention Complex features an arena, two theaters, and 90 meeting rooms, and offers direct access to two hotels: the Sheraton Birmingham Hotel and the Westin Birmingham. The AAA Four Diamond Renaissance Birmingham Ross Bridge Golf Resort & Spa has more than 25,000 square feet of event space.

At the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa, Bryant Conference Center offers more than 30,000 square feet of meeting space. Adjacent to the conference center is Hotel Capstone, with 12,000 square feet of function space; the hotel is transitioning to Graduate by Hilton in 2027.

In the capital city of Montgomery, the downtown convention district includes the 1,800-seat Montgomery Performing Arts Centre, a 73,000-square-foot convention center, and 1,100 hotel rooms, including Renaissance Montgomery Hotel & Spa at the Convention Center and Embassy Suites by Hilton Montgomery and Conference Center. The Festival Stage Theater at the Alabama Shakespeare Festival can host 250 for dinners, while the Montgomery Marriott Prattville Hotel & Conference Center at Capitol Hill features more than 20,000 square feet of event space.

In Auburn, The Laurel Hotel & Spa—the state’s first and only AAA Five Diamond Hotel—is a luxury teaching hotel on the Auburn University campus, in partnership with the Horst Schulze School of Hospitality Management, with space for executive retreats and corporate meetings. In addition, The Hotel at Auburn University & Dixon Conference Center includes a 356-seat auditorium.

In south Alabama, The Lodge at Gulf State Park, A Hilton Hotel offers 350 beachfront guest rooms and more than 40,000 square feet of indoor and outdoor event space; Perdido Beach Resort has 44,000 square feet of indoor/outdoor event space; and the Grand Hotel Golf Resort and Spa, Autograph Collection in Point Clear accommodates up to 1,400 reception guests. In Mobile, Renaissance Mobile Riverview Plaza connects to the 317,000-square-foot Mobile Convention Center. Other nearby properties include the historic Battle House Mobile Renaissance Hotel & Spa and Hampton Inn & Suites Mobile Downtown/Historic District. Set to open in 2027, the 10,000-seat Regions Arena will also feature ballrooms, club lounges, and other event spaces. 🍷

- Alabama’s State Flower is the camellia.
- Alabama has more than 50 miles of white-sand beaches on the Gulf of Mexico and 60 miles of waterfront all around Mobile Bay.
- The Wright Brothers opened the first civilian flying school in the United States in Montgomery in 1910.

- Ever lose a bag on a flight? It might be at Unclaimed Baggage in Scottsboro, where items from lost airline baggage are sold.
- Alabama can claim many literary greats, past and present, including Harper Lee, Truman, Capote, Fannie Flagg, Rick Bragg, Winston Groom, and Mark Childress.

Downtown Hot Springs

Old State House in Little Rock

By D. Fran Morley

Arkansas offers planners a blend of urban innovation, ample outdoor recreation, and a central location. The fast-growing northwest Arkansas hub of Fayetteville, Bentonville, Rogers, and Springdale is a hotbed for urban design, making it ideal for forward-thinking conferences, and, as the home to multiple Fortune 500 company headquarters, industry experts are readily available. The capital city of Little Rock provides state-of-the-art meeting and event facilities in a walkable downtown with shops, restaurants, and entertainment venues. Hot Springs and Eureka Springs boast well-preserved historic districts, drawing tourists and hosting gatherings of all types since the 1800s.

In Little Rock, the LEED Gold-certified Robinson Center has 25,000 square feet of meeting space, a 2,222-seat performance hall, and a 500-person capacity ballroom. The 220,000-square-foot Statehouse Convention Center connects to the Little Rock Marriott, which provides an additional 44,747 square feet of function space. Notable offsite venues include multiple spaces at the Arkansas Museum of Fine Arts and the Clinton Presidential Center, which has more than 10,000 square feet of meeting and event space and is part of the 33-acre Riverfront Park. A trolley and pedestrian bridge connect the city to North Little Rock, where the Wyndham Riverfront Little Rock has 14,000 square feet of function space. In addition, the Simmons Bank Arena in North Little Rock can accommodate 150 exhibit booths or seat 400 theater style.

Significant venues in northwest Arkansas include the Heartland Whole Health Institute, located on the campus of Crystal Bridges Museum of Modern Art in Bentonville and affiliated with the new Alice L. Walton School of Medicine. The institute offers customizable event spaces, with a ballroom that seats 684 theater style. At Crystal Bridges, planners can choose from indoor and outdoor spaces, including a 450-seat Great Hall.

Uptown Rogers features more than 70 restaurants, 100 shops, TopGolf, the Walmart AMP concert venue, an aquarium, and Embassy Suites Northwest Arkansas – Hotel, Spa & Convention Center, which offers 125,000 square feet of event space. The new Hotel Vin Rogers is scheduled to open in late summer with 125 guest rooms and 12,000 square feet of event space. In Springdale, the Holiday Inn & Northwest Arkansas Convention Center has 61,000 square feet of function space, including 23 meeting rooms and the 10,952-square-foot Arkansas Ballroom, which seats 1,800 people.

In Fayetteville—home to the University of Arkansas—venues include Fayetteville Town Center, with space to host 1,500 guests theater style; Walton Art Center, with a 1,201-seat main hall, two smaller theaters, and an outdoor amphitheater; and the 32-acre Mount Sequoyah Conference Center, with lodge and cottage guest rooms and indoor and outdoor event spaces for 400 guests.

In Fort Smith, planners will find the Old West on display at the U.S. Marshals Museum, which features 14,000 square feet of function space. The Wyndham Fort Smith City Center offers 15,880 square feet of event space and connects to the Fort Smith Convention Center, which includes a performing arts center, an exhibit hall, and additional indoor and outdoor spaces. 🌿

- The state flower is the apple blossom, designated in 1901.
- In 1881, the Arkansas General Assembly passed Arkansas Code Annotated § 1-4-105, officially declaring that the state be spelled “Arkansas” but pronounced “Ar-kan-saw.” Contrary to local myth, there is no criminal penalty for misspellings or mispronunciations.
- More than half of Arkansas is covered by forest, including the massive Ouachita National Forest, the oldest national forest in the southern United States.

- Major League Baseball spring training originated in Hot Springs in 1886, attracting legends like Babe Ruth, who trained there nine times and enjoyed the area’s thermal springs, casinos, and racetrack.
- The World Championship Duck Calling Contest is held annually in the small town of Stuttgart, in the southeastern part of the state.

With five communities ranked on Cvent's 2026 Top 50 Meeting Destinations in North America, Florida continues to be a hotspot for event professionals. Destinations are busy keeping up with demand: In 2025, 75 hotels with 9,686 total rooms and more than 210,800 square feet of meeting space opened across Florida. "With world-class conference centers, resorts, dining, and attractions, Florida gives planners the opportunity to design events that are both productive and memorable," according to Bryan Griffin, CEO of VISIT FLORIDA.

Ranked as Cvent's top meetings destination for the 11th time, Orlando remains a standout for its exceptional ability to attract group business. Cementing the point, 14 Orlando area convention hotels and resorts were named among the top meeting hotels in North America, with 10 ranked in the Top 100.

Expect more of the same in the coming years. The Orange County Convention Center has begun construction on the $560 million Grand Concourse Expansion; Orlando International Airport has begun $5.9 billion in enhancement projects slated for completion by 2030; the Walt Disney World Swan and Dolphin is set to complete a $275 million renovation and expansion project this year; Caribe Royale Orlando opened the new 20,000-square-foot Coral Ballroom and Martinique breakout rooms; and Hilton Orlando, one of the four hotels connected to the Orange County Convention Center, upgraded all 1,424 guest rooms. Walt Disney World, Universal Studios Florida, ICON Park, and Topgolf are attendee favorites.

"Working closely with our partners, Visit Orlando connects planners with the right resources across a destination that continues to evolve and offers solutions for meetings of every size," says Casandra Matej, president and CEO of Visit Orlando.

Miami continues to be a top destination for corporate meetings, incentives, associations, and special events. An 800-room Grand Hyatt hotel, opening in 2027, will connect directly to the Miami Beach Convention Center, adding a true headquarters property to the already bustling center.

Meanwhile, Fort Lauderdale debuted the $1.2 billion expansion of the Broward County Convention Center, as well as the opening of Omni Fort Lauderdale, a 29-story, 801-room headquarters hotel. The effort is already paying off: The destination hosted the U.S. Travel Association's IPW 2026 trade show and conference in May and ranks 19th on Cvent's Top 50 Destinations for Meetings.

As home of more than 60 luxury hotels and resorts, Tampa remains a regular host of major events. Tampa Convention Center offers 600,000 square feet of flexible event space, and is supported by JW Marriott Tampa Water Street (100,000 square feet of meeting space) and Hilton Tampa Downtown.

With a mix of upscale restaurants and retail, and the hotel properties to match, Palm Beach has long been home to corporate events, including VIP meetings. Six hotels are within a mile of the Palm Beach County Convention Center.

Florida's Panhandle, including Pensacola, Fort Walton Beach, Destin, and Panama City Beach, attracts retreats, associations, and faith-based events looking to blend beach and business. Meetings in Jacksonville are likely to land at Prime F. Osborn III Convention Center, Hyatt Regency Jacksonville Riverfront, Marriott Jacksonville Downtown, and Omni Jacksonville Hotel. 🌴

- As of February 2026, more than 260,000 square feet of new meeting space across 17 Florida hotels was under construction, according to VISIT FLORIDA.
- In 2024, business and leisure visitors contributed a record $133.6 billion to the Florida economy, a 5% increase over 2023, according to VISIT FLORIDA.
- The opening of Westin Cocoa Beach Resort & Spa will add more than 50,000 square feet of event space in Florida's Space Coast.
- As of July, Palm Beach's airport has a new name: President Donald J. Trump International Airport.
- The Cuban sandwich was invented in Tampa.

Create magic at Disney's Boardwalk!

Timeless elegance meets old-fashioned charm at this waterfront resort hotel. Delight in saltwater taffy-colored cottages, private courtyards and picturesque gardens—plus the ragtime sounds and carnival pastimes of the exciting Coney Island-style boardwalk. Reminiscent of turn-of-the-century Atlantic City, Disney's Boardwalk Villas is located within walking distance of or a short boat ride to both EPCOT and Disney's Hollywood Studios.

Bring Your Team. Leave the Usual Behind in The Florida Keys & Key West

Photos courtesy Visit Florida Keys

In The Florida Keys & Key West, meeting facilities come with a built-in sense of place. Across Key Largo, Islamorada, Marathon, The Lower Keys, and Key West, planners can find flexible function space and distinctive locations that support everything from focused sessions to incentive programs and group events. The result is a meeting experience that feels organized, memorable, and shaped by the character of The Keys from the first arrival to the final gathering.

Groups can choose from a wide range of accommodations throughout The Florida Keys. Waterfront resorts, boutique properties, historic inns, and focused-service hotels offer planners options for different group sizes, meeting styles, and travel preferences. Many properties offer indoor and outdoor function space, giving attendees room to gather, dine, celebrate, and reset in surroundings shaped by water, light, and Florida Keys character. This range also allows planners to match each property to the event's tone, whether the goal is a polished executive retreat, a relaxed incentive trip, a small leadership meeting, or a larger gathering with multiple moving parts.

Food and beverage experiences are a natural part of meeting in The Keys. Planners can build agendas around receptions by the water, local seafood, open-air dining, sunset events, and culinary experiences rooted in the destination. From casual dockside settings to polished resort dining, meals can become part of the overall experience rather than just another scheduled break. Attendees can gather over fresh flavors, local ingredients, and memorable views, giving planners another way to encourage connection outside the traditional meeting format.

Experienced destination professionals and local partners help planners connect the details, from site selection and activities to transportation, dining, and offsite experiences.

The area is also well-suited for teambuilding and incentive travel, with such options as snorkeling excursions, kayaking, fishing charters, cultural tours, historic sites, and sunset sails. These activities can be tailored to the group's size, pace, and purpose, creating shared moments that support the meeting's goals while giving attendees more to remember. With local knowledge and established relationships throughout The Keys, planners can also identify options that fit the group's schedule, budget, and overall objectives.

Groups can arrive through Key West International Airport (EYW) or travel through Miami and Fort Lauderdale, where the drive down the Overseas Highway becomes part of the experience. The route connects all five destinations with water views, landmark bridges, and a sense of arrival that begins before attendees reach their host property. For groups traveling from different markets, the combination of airport access and scenic ground transportation gives planners flexibility in how attendees arrive and experience The Keys along the way.

With pleasant weather throughout the year, The Florida Keys & Key West make it easy to plan meetings that move between indoor sessions and outdoor experiences. The subtropical setting supports waterfront dining, open-air receptions, and activities that help attendees make the most of their time together. Programs can feel productive, polished, and true to the destination, giving attendees space to focus, connect, and return with a stronger impression of the meeting itself. 🌴

Meetings with a little more latitude.

In The Florida Keys & Key West, meetings can move easily from focused sessions to open-air conversations, waterfront dining and shared experiences that help people connect. Across five distinct destinations, planners can create programs that feel productive, personal and shaped by the character of the place around them.

Georgia is a sweet spot for meetings, thanks to its mix of facilities and amenities spread throughout the state. Southern hospitality exudes statewide, with destinations big and small creating memorable experiences for attendees.

Atlanta hosted more than 700 events in 2025. Since 2020, Atlanta has introduced 19 new hotels, adding nearly 4,000 rooms to its inventory. Another 10 hotels, featuring more than 1,500 rooms, are planned to open by 2030.

The Georgia World Congress Center (GWCC) remains the epicenter of meetings and events in Atlanta. The convention center campus—which also includes Mercedes-Benz Stadium, Signia by Hilton Atlanta, and Centennial Olympic Park—continues to evolve to meet today’s attendees’ needs, including a new sensory room at GWCC for individuals requiring a quiet environment during events. New at Centennial Yards is COSM Atlanta, an 87-foot LED dome featuring 80,000 square feet of event space blending technology and human interaction in a “Shared Reality” environment, and the boutique Hotel Phoenix, which opened late last year and is ideal for corporate and luxury events.

In nearby Cobb County, the Omni and aloft hotels are a convenient choice for groups looking to combine meetings with the fun of Major League Baseball at Truist Park and additional entertainment, attractions, and dining at The Battery Atlanta. Cobb County Convention Center, which is connected to the Renaissance Atlanta Waverly Hotel & Convention Center, and Cobb Energy Performing Arts Centre are other premier venues in the county.

The ATL Airport District allows for an easy in and out of the region, and is home to the Georgia International Convention Center, which has 150,000 square feet of exhibit space and 16,000 square feet of meeting space. The Gateway Center Arena campus includes restaurants and entertainment options surrounding the WNBA arena.

Elsewhere in metro Atlanta, Sandy Springs, Duluth, Roswell, and Alpharetta offer unique venues, boutique hotels, and chef-driven dining for medium-sized gatherings.

Less than two hours south of Atlanta, Columbus has more than 750,000 square feet of meeting space ideal for meetings, conferences, reunions, retreats, and corporate events. There are more than 4,800 hotel rooms supporting events at the Columbus Georgia Convention & Trade Center, RiverCenter for the Performing Arts, and Columbus Civic Center. Historic mills, museums, and riverfront gathering spaces offer unique options for receptions, galas, and other offsite events.

In Savannah, the expanded Savannah Convention Center now offers 660,000 square feet of space, including a new 40,000-square-foot ballroom, 32 customizable breakout rooms, and many more amenities. The 444-room Signia by Hilton Savannah is slated to open in mid-2028 as an anchor to the convention center’s hospitality district. Recess Hotel & Club Savannah, AC Hotel Savannah Historic District, Hotel Bardo, Tempo by Hilton, and The Municipal Grand Hotel are new additions ideally positioned for attendees to get down to business while also exploring the city’s charm.

Augusta’s meeting space is anchored by the Augusta Convention Center, which is connected to the Augusta Marriott at the Convention Center. Construction is underway on the new Augusta Arena, slated to open in 2027 with expanded seating, ballrooms, terraces, meeting rooms, and outdoor gathering spaces. Also coming to downtown next year is The Conroy, a Marriott Tribute Portfolio Hotel.

Athens is more than home to the University of Georgia. The Classic Center hosts events of more than 8,000 attendees and has 373,000 square feet of event space, including pre-function and an outdoor pavilion. Unique venues include the State Botanical Garden of Georgia, local theaters, and breweries. 🍷

- Chartered by the Georgia General Assembly on Jan. 27, 1785, The University of Georgia is America’s first state-chartered university.
- Cartersville, one hour north of Atlanta, calls itself “Museum City USA” because it is home to eight museums, two of which are Smithsonian-affiliated.
- Château Élan Winery in Braselton has earned more than 300 awards across global competitions. The venue has 50,000 square feet of flexible indoor and outdoor event space.

- The Lawrence Hotel, Tapestry Collection by Hilton is scheduled to open this summer as the first upscale, full-service boutique hotel in downtown Lawrenceville.
- Available for corporate outings and tournaments, Rhythm and Rally in Macon is the largest indoor pickleball facility in the United States, with 32 courts.

IN PERRY, WE DO THINGS A LITTLE DIFFERENTLY!

Here, conventions feel unconventional, in all the best ways. Our charming small-town setting offers the perfect pace for productivity, with fewer distractions and more space for meaningful connections. Your guests will still be able to enjoy vibrant nightlife and dining in Historic Downtown Perry while bypassing the big-city hassle and the big-city price tag.

Perry is home to the Georgia National Fairgrounds & Agricenter, which boasts direct access off of I-75 and over 1,100 acres of flexible indoor and outdoor event space. From complimentary parking and easy-to-navigate venues to group-friendly hotels and affordable catering options, Perry proves that planning an exceptional event doesn't have to break the budget. Conveniently located in the heart of Georgia, Perry delivers charm, Southern hospitality, and exceptional value, so your event can make a lasting impression without leaving attendees, and your wallet, feeling worn out.

The Kentucky Derby in Louisville

Capitol building in Frankfort

By D. Fran Morley

Kentucky provides planners with a central U.S. location and a destination that is investing in the future and working to strengthen economic and regional development. The state has a stellar reputation for fast horses, good bourbon, top college basketball, and unique attractions, such as the National Quilt Museum in Paducah, the National Corvette Museum in Bowling Green, Mammoth Cave National Park, the Louisville Slugger Museum and Factory, and, in Covington, a prototype for the Brooklyn Bridge.

In Louisville's walkable downtown, the Kentucky International Convention Center has 200,125 square feet of exhibit space, a 40,000-square-foot ballroom, 52 meeting rooms, and a 165-seat conference theater. It connects to the Louisville Marriott Downtown and the Hyatt Regency. Near Muhammad Ali Louisville International Airport (SDF), the Kentucky Exposition Center expects to debut a new multipurpose building in late 2026, with 277,000 square feet of exhibit space and a 47,000-square-foot courtyard. The $180 million expansion adds to the Exposition Center's existing 1.2 million square feet of event space, two arenas, 46 meeting rooms, and additional outdoor function areas.

The region known as northern Kentucky (NKY) comprises the cities of Covington, Newport, and Florence, and is just across the Ohio River from downtown Cincinnati, accessible by walking bridge and an early prototype of the design John Roebling would go on to use for the Brooklyn Bridge. Completed in 1867 and still in use today, the bridge is a designated National Historic Landmark. NKY features a walkable urban core and a scenic riverfront, along with authentic German restaurants, an aquarium, the Ark Encounter, and other attractions. The riverfront Northern Kentucky Convention Center has 110,000 square feet of meeting, exhibition, and social function space. The Cincinnati Marriott at RiverCenter offers additional event space and direct access to the convention center via a skywalk.

Home to the University of Kentucky and renowned as the "Horse Capital of the World," Lexington offers planners distinct meeting and excursion options. Groups can visit local Thoroughbred farms to learn about horse-racing legends and meet future superstars, experience the thrill of races at Keeneland, and enjoy Kentucky Horse Park's museum, attractions, and regularly scheduled events. In downtown, the 20,500-seat Rupp Arena connects to the Central Bank Center, which offers 200,000 square feet of convention and event space. The center is next to the Hyatt Regency Lexington and the Hilton Lexington/Downtown, which together offer 700 guest rooms.

Western Kentucky includes the cities of Owensboro and Paducah. In Owensboro, planners' event options include the Bluegrass Music Hall of Fame and Museum, which features a 4,000-square-foot event room and 447-seat theater, and Owensboro Convention Center, with 102,000 square feet of available space. In Paducah, the 100,000-square-foot Paducah McCracken County Convention and Expo Center is part of a walkable, historic downtown with shops, restaurants, and galleries.

The Kentucky Bourbon Trail features more than 60 distilleries, including smaller craft shops and major heritage distilleries, such as James B. Beam, Four Roses, Heaven Hill, Maker's Mark, and Buffalo Trace, most of which offer special event space. 🍷

- There are more than 8.5 million barrels of bourbon aging in the state, easily outnumbering its human population.
- Churchill Downs in Louisville has hosted the Kentucky Derby continuously since 1875, making it the longest-running sporting event in the United States.
- Middlesboro, in eastern Kentucky, near Cumberland Gap National Historic Park, is the only city in the United States built entirely inside a meteor crater.
- Kentucky is the only state to have continuous river borders on three of its sides—the Mississippi to the west, the Ohio to the north, and the Big Sandy to the east.
- Happy Birthday to You was composed in Louisville in 1893 by two sisters, Patty and Mildred Hill. It remained under copyright until a federal court ruling in 2015.

Louisiana

Jungle Gardens on Avery Island in Iberia Parish

Jackson Square in New Orleans

By Matt Swenson

There's no better place to spice up your event than in "Cajun Country." Louisiana dares to be unique, leaning on its mix of hot cuisine, eclectic culture, and one-of-a-kind venues. No two events are the same in The Pelican State, and it's rare to experience a meeting here that has the same feel as an event elsewhere in the United States.

Baton Rouge is gaining traction for planners who want a strong sense of place without the friction of larger markets. Built-in programming spans SEC sports culture, live music, and one of the South's most distinctive food scenes. Raising Cane's River Center and distinctive offsite venues like the Old State Capitol and Louisiana Art & Science Museum provide spacious environments for large groups. In addition, the $40 million transformation of the Hilton Baton Rouge Capitol Center into a Sports Illustrated Resort is scheduled for completion in 2027. New experiences for groups include Emeril's Chop House at L'Auberge Casino Hotel, tours of Marucci Campus, makers of the official Major League Baseball bats, and Death Valley Live, which is activating LSU's Tiger Stadium for large-scale events, private functions, and entertainment-driven group experiences.

New Orleans continues to demonstrate why it is truly Built to Host. Backed by more than $2 billion in citywide hotel renovations and $763 million in planned and ongoing enhancements at the New Orleans Ernest N. Morial Convention Center, the city elevates the meetings and convention experience for planners and attendees alike. Plans also are underway for major renovations to the Smoothie King Center. The Hilton New Orleans Riverside has begun a nearly $14 million renovation, while Omni Royal Orleans and JW Marriott New Orleans recently upgraded their meeting and event spaces. A transformative 1,000-room Omni Hotels & Resorts headquarters hotel adjacent to the convention center is scheduled to open in 2029, further strengthening the convention campus. Additional property-wide renovations are underway at Hilton New Orleans, while the former Bank of New Orleans building will house two new hospitality offerings: the Fairmont New Orleans and the Element by Marriott.

Lake Charles hosts more than 75 festivals and special events each year, a testament to the community's love of group experiences. Known as "Louisiana's Playground," Lake Charles is a favorite among regional association events, in part for its gaming venues, including L'Auberge Lake Charles, Golden Nugget, Delta Downs Racetrack Casino & Hotel, and The Horseshoe Casino Lake Charles. Each has meeting and event space.

As home of the 350,000-square-foot Shreveport Convention Center, Shreveport continues to exceed expectations as a relatively small meetings market. An additional 21 unique offsite meeting venues, 10,500 hotel rooms, immersive group experiences, and its famed Louisiana cuisine also work in the destination's favor. Petting stingrays at the Shreveport Aquarium and ziplining over alligators at Gators and Friends Adventure Park are two experiences to keep attendees talking about your meeting in Shreveport. 🌿

- New Orleans will host IPW, the U.S. Travel Association's large conference and trade show, in 2027.
- Baton Rouge means "Red Stick," a reference tracing back to early French explorers who spotted a cypress pole marking the divide between tribal hunting grounds.
- The Louisiana Art & Science Museum is housed in a former 1925 railroad depot along the Mississippi River.
- Lake Charles is famous for boudin, a localized Cajun staple made of pork, liver, rice, onions, and seasonings.
- On game days, LSU's Tiger Stadium becomes the fifth-largest city in the state, as 100,000-plus fans pack the venue.

Louisiana's Capital City

Getting together in Baton Rouge is as much about making connections as conducting business. Beyond the welcoming venues and expertise from exceptional educational institutions, attending a meeting or conference here is an immersion in the best of Louisiana's flavors, personality, & genuine hospitality—from Cajun cuisine to festivals & parades. Whether you're delivering a keynote or here to network with local thought leaders, your real success will come from experiencing Baton Rouge together.

Maryland

National Harbor

By Matt Swenson

With mountains to the west, the Chesapeake Bay to the east, and two urban centers between, Maryland offers a diversified geography across many distinct regions, blending history with vibrant culture and modern infrastructure.

In Baltimore, major developments include a $4.8 million renovation of The Baltimore Convention Center, including technology upgrades for faster WiFi and improved fiber connectivity. Local officials are also considering a much larger expansion for the convention center. Meanwhile, it's full steam ahead for renovations and restoration at The B&O Railroad Museum, which turns 200 in 2027. The South Car Works building will soon feature an Innovation Hall to exhibit American railroading technology, provide state-of-the-art educational space, and house the museum's extensive historical archives. Also in the works is a major renovation of the Maryland Science Center. The $10 million project includes new exhibits, renovated spaces, and new programs, ideal for group visits.

M&T Bank Stadium, home of the Baltimore Ravens, is undergoing a $489 million renovation, which will bring new venues for the 2026 season, including The Raven and The Trust, the indoor-outdoor Miller Lite Gatehouse & Roof Deck, and the speakeasy-style Blackwing lounge. All areas will be available year-round for private events, corporate meetings, and social gatherings, supported by in-house catering and, for select events, field or locker room access.

Annapolis and Anne Arundel County's waterfront setting makes the region popular for corporate meetings and retreats, local association meetings, and networking opportunities. Major venues include the U.S. Naval Academy, Jake C. Taylor Conference Center, and an array of historic properties in downtown Annapolis. Chesapeake Arts Center, Live! Casino and Hotel, and the Earl and Darielle Lineham Concert Hall are nearby entertainment attractions.

Across the Potomac River from Washington, D.C., National Harbor in Prince George's County offers all-in-one lodging, dining, and entertainment at The Gaylord National Resort and MGM National Harbor. A smaller version of The Sphere, an iconic new addition to the Las Vegas Strip, is planned for National Harbor. The venue will host 6,000 attendees and feature an exterior LED display, a 16K-by-16K interior display plane, and advanced technologies, including Sphere Immersive Sound and 4D environmental effects. Anticipated opening is 2030.

Scientific meetings and luxury groups alike will find themselves at home at The Hotel at The University of Maryland. The AAA Four Diamond hotel in College Park includes more than 43,000 square feet of flexible meeting and event space across 18 unique rooms. It can accommodate executive board meetings, large conferences, and other gatherings. 🌱

- For the first time in 118 years, the Preakness Stakes was run at Laurel Park in 2026 as Pimlico Race Course underwent a $400 million redevelopment.
- Wonder Food Hall has opened at Canton Crossing in Baltimore, bringing well-known chefs and more than 20 restaurants to "Charm City."
- Frederick is anticipating the 2027 opening of Marriott Downtown Frederick. The $103 million, five-story project includes a 204-room upscale Marriott hotel with approximately 27,000 square feet of meeting space, an underground parking garage, four food outlets, retail space, and a renovated historic Trolley Building.

- Meritus Park, a new Minor League Baseball stadium in downtown Hagerstown, is a fun option for corporate outings, teambuilding, and client outings.
- American Cruise Lines is building 10 new ships in Salisbury. Once launched, they will serve primarily East Coast itineraries for corporate groups to consider for incentive trips and meetings.

Downtown Jackson

White House Hotel in Biloxi

By Matt Swenson

Mississippi is positioning itself as a destination for the moment, offering convenience and competitive prices. Across the state, planners will find walkable downtown districts, expanded hotel offerings, flexible venues, memorable culinary experiences, and immersive attractions. Major universities infuse destinations with vibrancy and provide top-of-the-line venues for board meetings, association gatherings, corporate events, and more. “Mississippi continues to elevate its position as a premier destination for meetings, conventions, and sporting events by delivering authentic experiences, exceptional hospitality, and measurable value for planners and attendees alike,” says Kammie Carpenter, chief sales officer for Visit Mississippi.

Jackson, the state capital, offers the largest concentration of meeting facilities, hotels, museums, and cultural attractions. Jackson Convention Complex offers state-of-the-art technology, a 382-seat theater, and more than 330,000 square feet of meeting and exhibit space. Mississippi Trade Mart, located at the Mississippi Fairgrounds, is another option for trade shows. Corporate groups, in particular, will appreciate The Westin Jackson’s six event rooms and outdoor terrace. The Hilton Jackson has 17 meeting spaces, including two amphitheater venues, a penthouse ballroom, boardrooms, and restaurants with private and semi-private areas.

Home to the University of Mississippi, Oxford benefits from its college town vibe and modern amenities. Three standout venues are The Oxford Conference Center, The Graduate Oxford, and The Lyric Oxford. Planners should ensure they build in downtime for attendees to explore The Square or attend an event at the Ford Center for the Performing Arts. Sports fans can catch SEC action during off-hours.

Starkville, home of Mississippi State University (MSU), offers intimate and unique meeting venues, on campus and in the surrounding community. MSU’s Bost Conference Center hosts many different types of events, such as meetings, lectures, conventions, conferences, workshops, and banquets. Meeting planners can take advantage of university resources, flexible venue options, and destination support services designed to simplify event logistics.

Coastal Mississippi’s 62 miles of coastline and array of full-service casino resorts—including Beau Rivage Resort and Casino, Hard Rock Hotel and Casino, Golden Nugget Biloxi, and Harrah’s Gulf Coast—present myriad opportunities to blend business with leisure. The Mississippi Coast Convention Center is a fully flexible facility with 400,000 square feet of exhibit and meeting space, making it ideal for mid-sized to large groups. Inspire innovation at INFINITY Science Center, or feed attendees’ sweet teeth at Tato-Nut. For a unique excursion, consider booking a shrimping trip for a true sense of place. This collection of communities, including Biloxi and Gulfport, is also a popular destination for youth events, particularly faith-based conferences and retreats.

Elsewhere, Vicksburg has a range of venues, including economy-friendly hotel chains, a city auditorium, and a convention center. Natchez offers experience-heavy options through its historic live music scene, mansions, and many festivals. 🌿

- Dr. James D. Hardy performed the world’s first human lung transplant in 1963 and the first heart transplant in 1964 at Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson.
- In 2021, Mississippi ratified a new state flag featuring the Magnolia, the state flower. Its former flag, flown since 1894, included the Confederate battle emblem.
- Famous inventions and creations originating in Mississippi include stickball, Pine-Sol, soft toilet seats, Barq’s Root Beer, and the iconic Mississippi mud pie chocolate dessert.
- Notable Mississippians include authors William Faulkner, Eudora Welty, and Tennessee Williams; musicians Elvis Presley, Bo Diddley, and B.B. King; athletes Walter Payton, Jerry Rice, and Brett Favre; and entertainers Oprah Winfrey, Jim Henson, and James Earl Jones.
- There is only one city named Biloxi in the United States.

Within each city, listings are grouped by category starting with CVBs, convention and conference centers, followed by hotels, then unique venues.

Branson Landing

Courtesy: Explore Branson

By D. Fran Morley

In The Show Me State, planners will find a world-renowned live-entertainment destination, college towns, lake and mountain resorts, and two major urban areas, each with the capability of hosting gatherings of tens of thousands of people.

Kansas City, which hosted the FIFA 2026 World Cup, is fresh off a wave of infrastructure improvements, including a new $60 million extension of its free streetcar line and the recently opened 1 million-square-foot single terminal at Kansas City International Airport (MCI). The Kansas City Convention Center complex includes a 388,000-square-foot exhibit hall, a 40,500-square-foot ballroom, 48 meeting rooms, a 2,400-seat fine arts theater, an arena, and a festival plaza. Additional event space is available at Kansas City Marriott Downtown, Loews Kansas City Hotel, and Crowne Plaza Kansas City Downtown, all within a few blocks of the convention center. According to VisitKC, nine hotels have opened in the downtown area in recent years, with 10 more set to open throughout 2026. At the Crown Center shopping and entertainment district, the Westin Kansas City at Crown Center has 44,347 square feet of event space, while the Sheraton Kansas City Hotel at Crown Center has 96,537 square feet of function space.

In St. Louis, the 630-foot-tall Gateway Arch takes center stage on the riverfront, along with the expanded Gateway Arch National Park, which connects the riverfront to downtown hotels, restaurants, and attractions. Unique event sites include Busch Stadium, home to the St. Louis Cardinals; Ballpark Village, a lodging, dining, and entertainment district; and the historic St. Louis Union Station, which includes a hotel, an aquarium, a 200-foot-tall observation wheel, and multiple event spaces with a seating capacity of 3,178 theater style. The America's Center Convention Complex has four distinct facilities under one roof, including a 67,000-seat stadium, a 1,400-seat theater, a 28,000-square-foot ballroom, and 95 meeting rooms.

The live entertainment mecca of Branson makes it easy for planners to incorporate music, comedy, and dinner shows into any event agenda. The city is home to numerous interactive museums and has many options for water sports and excursions on the surrounding lakes. Silver Dollar City theme park is set to open a new 262-room resort hotel with 20,000 square feet of indoor and outdoor event space in 2027. Branson Landing, a lakefront shopping, dining, and entertainment destination, is home to the 220,000-square-foot Branson Convention Center and the connected Hilton Branson Convention Center Hotel, plus the adjacent Hilton Promenade. Big Cedar Lodge, a 4,600-acre wilderness resort, has multiple meeting and event spaces for up to 1,000 guests. The AAA Four Diamond Chateau on the Lake Resort Spa & Convention Center offers 53,052 square feet of flexible event space. Thousand Hills Resort Hotel, located just off The Strip, has two event spaces to seat up to 200 dinner guests.

In the college town of Columbia, the Wyndham Executive Center Columbia has space to seat 1,600 banquet guests. In Springfield, the University Plaza Hotel & Convention Center and the adjacent Springfield Expo Center work together to provide 160,000 total square feet of function space. Lake of the Ozarks offers six convention hotels, including Margaritaville Lake Resort, which has 76,000 square feet of function space. 🌿

- In 1811 and 1812, the New Madrid earthquakes hit the state with an estimated magnitude exceeding 7.5. They are the most powerful earthquakes ever in the contiguous United States, causing the Mississippi River to briefly flow backward.
- St. Joseph served as the eastern starting point for the Pony Express, which launched in 1860 to speed mail to California.
- 1904 Summer Olympics were hosted in St. Louis alongside the World's Fair, marking the first time the Games were held outside of Europe. Both iced tea and the ice cream cone were invented at the 1904 World's Fair.
- In March 1912, Capt. Albert Berry executed the first successful parachute jump from an airplane in St. Louis
- A machine to slice bread was invented in Chillico in 1928.

Within each city, listings are grouped by category starting with CVBs, convention and conference centers, followed by hotels, then unique venues.

North Carolina

Cary Park in Raleigh

The Outer Banks

By Matt Swenson

North Carolina's conference centers, hotels, service providers, historic landmarks, cultural sites, and unique venues remain a driving force of its appeal as a meetings destination, but, according to Wit Tuttell, executive director of Visit North Carolina, winery excursions, beachside events, scenic mountain views, and intimate event settings deliver the personal touches that resonate with attendees.

Charlotte Convention Center, Bojangles Coliseum, and Spectrum Center anchor large-scale events in Charlotte, alongside experiential venues like Camp North End and AvidXchange Music Factory. The Casey by Beau Monde, The Mint Museum Uptown, neighborhood breweries, and rooftop venues are increasingly popular for receptions, executive dinners, and networking events. New hotels of note include The Moxy Charlotte Downtown and The Beckworth Hotel, a 245-room boutique hotel featuring a 35,000-square-foot ballroom and rooftop bar opening in late 2026.

In the state capital, the Raleigh Convention Center is preparing for a dramatic expansion that will add more than 298,000 square feet of meeting space, bringing its total to 798,000 square feet upon completion in 2029. The 29-story, 600-room Omni Raleigh Hotel is slated to open in late 2028 between the convention center and Martin Marietta Center for the Performing Arts. Lenovo Center is also undergoing major upgrades, including the development of a 200,000-square-foot retail district. In addition, Red Hat Amphitheater is moving to a new, larger location with new amenities and offerings for event planners.

The Inn at Biltmore Estate and The Omni Grove Park Inn & Spa are mainstays for groups in Asheville. Smaller venues include the newly opened AutoCamp Asheville, a collection of sleek Airstream suites and modern cabins ideal for corporate retreats. Bespoke art workshops, like glassblowing at NC Glass Center, and onsite wellness experiences at such venues as Drip Sauna make a meeting in Asheville a true experience. The Asheville Regional Airport (AVL), which is on track to complete a $400 million expansion in 2027, offers nonstop service to 26 destinations.

Winston-Salem offers meeting planners the infrastructure and amenities typically associated with much larger destinations without losing its small-town charm. The downtown convention center district includes dozens of restaurants, shops, meeting venues, and hotels clustered within a few blocks. Innovation Quarter is an example of Winston-Salem reinventing itself, as century-old tobacco factories now thrive as biotech labs, breweries, restaurants, and vibrant gathering spaces. Other significant projects include a $5 million renovation of the Winston-Salem Marriott; the addition of a new first-floor event space with a capacity of 600 guests at ROAR, a multi-level venue; and the completion of a $15 million expansion of Tanglewood Clubhouse.

In Wilmington, both Golden Sands Resort and Courtyard Marriott Carolina Beach Oceanfront completed upgrades to guest rooms and public spaces. As a result of groups' increasing interest in ecotourism and CSR opportunities, the Wilmington and Beaches CVB helps connect planners with local nonprofits as a way to give back to the host community. 🌱

- The state gem is the emerald.
- The Piedmont region, home to nine of the state's 10 largest cities, accounts for 77.8% of business travel in North Carolina.
- The inaugural MICHELIN Guide American South includes 47 North Carolina restaurants in or near Asheville, Charlotte, Durham, and Raleigh.
- With 250 rooms, Biltmore House in Asheville ranks as America's largest home.
- Charlotte is home to the world's largest manmade whitewater river.
- More than 300 movies and TV projects have been filmed in the Wilmington area.

Within each city, listings are grouped by category starting with CVBs, convention and conference centers, followed by hotels, then unique venues.

Oklahoma is recognized by planners as a convenient, easily accessible, and affordable destination with an inimitable Western heritage that honors Native Americans and cowboys, an early oil boom that brought western expansion, and a true slice of Americana along historic Route 66 that still invites travelers to explore.

In recent decades, Oklahoma City has seen more than $5 billion in public and private investments, including upgrades to sports, recreation, entertainment, cultural, and convention facilities. The 500,000-square-foot Oklahoma City Convention Center overlooks Scissortail Park and is near several hotels with major event space, including Omni Oklahoma City Hotel and Sheraton Oklahoma City Downtown Hotel. OKANA Resort & Indoor Waterpark, which opened last year, features a 26,676-square-foot conference center with two ballrooms, four breakout rooms, and 7,483 square feet of pre-function space, plus an event lawn and 1,500-seat amphitheater. The resort is adjacent to the First Americans Museum, which presents the collective histories of the 39 distinctive First American Nations in Oklahoma today. Event space at the museum includes the Hall of the People, which can accommodate 405 guests. Three historic hotels in downtown—The Skirvin, A Hilton Hotel; The National, Autograph Collection; and Colcord Hotel Oklahoma City, Curio Collection by Hilton—all offer updated meeting and event space.

Tulsa is home to several historic music venues, including Cain's Ballroom, Big 10 Ballroom, the Bob Dylan Center, and the Woody Guthrie Center. Greenwood Rising is an interactive history center honoring the community of Greenwood, once called "Black Wall Street," that was ravaged in a race massacre in 1921. Arvest Convention Center (formerly the Cox Business Center) features Oklahoma's two largest ballrooms and has space to seat 9,000 guests theater style. There are more than 2,000 hotel rooms within walking distance of the convention center, including those at the connected DoubleTree by Hilton Tulsa Downtown and the adjacent Aloft Tulsa Downtown. Additional event hotels include Renaissance Tulsa Hotel & Convention Center, River Spirit Casino Resort, Hard Rock Hotel & Casino Tulsa, Hyatt Regency Tulsa Downtown, and Osage Casino Hotel.

The college towns of Norman, Stillwater, and Edmond provide lively nightlife and university resources. Norman is home to the IACC-certified National Center for Employee Development Conference Center and Hotel, with 75,000 square feet of meeting and event space and a capacity of 850 guests theater style. In Stillwater, venues at Oklahoma State University include the 3,500-seat O'Brate Stadium and McKnight Center for the Performing Arts, featuring a 1,100-seat concert hall, a 222-seat recital hall, and a 1,000-seat outdoor amphitheater. In Edmond, facilities at the University of Central Oklahoma and Oklahoma Christian University include classrooms, ballrooms, and auditoriums.

Broken Arrow is home to Stoney Creek Hotel & Conference Center Broken Arrow, with 42,000 square feet of meeting space across 10 event rooms, and the Broken Arrow Performing Arts Center, a premiere performance hall with a 1,500-seat main hall and a lobby with a capacity of 1,490 reception guests. In the town of Muskogee, The Castle of Muskogee is a unique entertainment and event complex with a 20-acre replica of a Renaissance village. The Oklahoma Music Hall of Fame, also in Muskogee, is in the final stages of a major renovation and expansion. In Quapaw, Downstream Casino Resort offers more than 25,000 square feet of multi-functional meeting and function space, including a dedicated conference center. 🍷

- The name Oklahoma comes from two Choctaw words: okla (people) and humma (red).
- Gordon Matthews, a Tulsa native, patented the voicemail system in the 1970s.
- John Harrington, a citizen of the Chickasaw Nation, was the first Native American in space, serving as a mission specialist on board the Endeavour space shuttle in 2002.
- Oklahoma contains the longest drivable stretch of original Route 66, running for approximately 400 miles.
- Oklahoma's Cimarron County (located in the panhandle) is the only county in the United States that directly touches four different states (Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, and Kansas).

Within each city, listings are grouped by category starting with CVBs, convention and conference centers, followed by hotels, then unique venues.

The Cooper in Charleston

By D. Fran Morley

It's almost always tee time in South Carolina, a popular destination for associations, corporations, nonprofit groups, and others who turn to the greens for teambuilding, company tournaments, and charitable events. Golf is just one of the many experiences to be enjoyed across the state, which is replete with destinations already accustomed to blurring the lines between business and pleasure. World-class dining, unique venues, and top-notch entertainment await your group, wherever you hold your next meeting.

Charleston combines Southern charm and historic venues with modern amenities and acclaimed restaurants. Embassy Suites Convention Center completed a full renovation in April 2025. The Cooper opened this year as a luxury hotel, offering indoor and outdoor event spaces with a waterfront setting. Just off Upper King and surrounded by local favorites and hidden gems, The Lowline Hotel is a standout within the JdV by Hyatt brand, a limited collection of community-inspired boutiques. Its Sterling Hall meeting rooms provide intimate spaces ideal for corporate groups. Tucked into the Historic District, Live Oak, a Tribute Portfolio Hotel by Marriott is an elevated boutique property headlined by executive chef Eucepe Puntriano's culinary creations.

Myrtle Beach has expertly crafted its reputation to match its award-winning dining, memorable experiences, and unique venues. Groups here can certainly enjoy the sun and a round of golf, but there's much more to explore. Brookgreen Gardens' stunning new welcome center and $17 million conservatory opened earlier this year with expanded event and educational spaces, including a 5,500-square-foot great hall and a scenic courtyard. Ocean Reef Resort, a full-service oceanfront resort, completed a $15 million renovation in 2025, modernizing its guest rooms, lobby, fitness center, and meeting spaces. Meeting planners can take a swing at the upgraded Pelicans Ballpark, a Minor League Baseball venue offering suites and meeting space for client events and teambuilding. Speaking of teambuilding, Pin Point Indoor Pickleball & Golf is a fun venue for teambuilding events, networking gatherings, and casual group outings. The expansion of and upgrades to Myrtle Beach International Airport (MYR) make it easier than ever to get here.

Hyatt Regency Greenville has undergone a revitalization of its F&B, meeting spaces, and lobby. Two dynamic new music venues—The Mockingbird and Coach Music Factory—add new options for offsite events and live evening entertainment. Groups can enjoy incredible dining at Scoundrel—Greenville's first restaurant to earn a MICHELIN star—and other MICHELIN Recommended local restaurants. Greenville Convention Center, with more than 280,000 square feet of flexible event space, remains the biggest convention venue. It hosts a variety of large association, corporate, faith-based, and youth meetings.

In the state capital, the 142,500-square-foot Columbia Metropolitan Convention Center is within walking distance of more than 1,700 hotel rooms, more than 60 restaurants and nightlife options, shopping, and other attractions. Central Energy, Savage Craft Ale Works, and 701 Whaley Street are unique venues for offsite events. 🍷

- Columbia is the first city in the United States named for Christopher Columbus.
- Greenville was called "Pleasantburg" until 1831, when it was renamed to honor Nathanael Greene, a Revolutionary War hero.
- The tallest trees east of the Mississippi are just 20 miles outside of Columbia in Congaree National Park.
- Charleston was home to the first golf game, first theater (the Dock Street Theatre), first public library, and the first museum (The Charleston Museum) in America.
- South Carolina native singer-songwriter Darius Rucker is now a celebrity influencer advocating for travel to the state.

Gaylord Opryland Resort & Convention Center

The Mountain Mile entertainment and dining destination in Pigeon Forge

By D. Fran Morley

The Volunteer State offers a booming tourism industry, top-notch attractions, and a diverse landscape stretching from the Mississippi River to the Great Smoky Mountains. The state's four major cities each reflect their region's unique histories and cultures.

Memphis is welcoming new attractions. Phase one is now open at Baron Von Oppenbean and the River of Time, a 33,000-square-foot immersive, interactive adventure world. The Memphis Art Museum opens a new downtown riverfront space this fall, with classrooms, a 175-seat theater, a courtyard, and a rooftop sculpture garden. The Peabody Memphis, with 80,000 square feet of event space, has completed a $19 million renovation of guest rooms, lobby, and dining spaces. The 300,000-square-foot Renasant Convention Center in Memphis connects to the Sheraton Memphis Downtown Hotel and the Cannon Center for the Performing Arts.

Nashville's ever-expanding hotel inventory includes Motto by Hilton Nashville Downtown, which opened in January and offers small event space in the heart of the entertainment district. Dolly Parton's SongTeller Hotel is set to open in early fall 2026. Major convention hotels include Gaylord Opryland Resort & Convention Center, with 758,911 square feet of convention space and 2,888 guest rooms, as well as Omni Nashville Hotel, Grand Hyatt Nashville, Renaissance Nashville, and JW Marriott Nashville. Music City Center has 350,000 square feet of exhibit space, two ballrooms, and 61 meeting rooms.

Chattanooga boasts a free electric trolley and a walkable downtown riverfront with easy access to the Tennessee Aquarium, Hunter Museum of Art, and National Medal of Honor Heritage Center, all with indoor and outdoor function space. Erlanger Park, the new home of the Chattanooga Lookouts, is a multi-use stadium and venue that blends Chattanooga's industrial legacy with stunning views, modern amenities, and multiple event spaces. Newly opened downtown hotels The Waymark, Tapestry Collection by Hilton and Embassy Suites Downtown feature rooftop event spaces. A short drive from the city, Cloudland at McLeMores Resort, Curio Collection by Hilton is an elegant mountain-top resort with 20,000 square feet of function space.

In Knoxville, more than 1,800 guest rooms are within a walkable one-square-mile of the Knoxville Convention Center, which has 119,922 square feet of exhibit hall space, a 27,000-square-foot grand ballroom, 20 meeting rooms, a 460-seat lecture hall, and additional indoor and outdoor spaces. It sits adjacent to World's Fair Park, home of the iconic Sunsphere, and connects to three hotels: the Knoxville Hilton, Marriott Knoxville Downtown, and The Tennessean. World's Fair Exhibit Hall is a recently updated 70,000-square-foot facility suitable for shows, exhibitions, sporting events, and conferences.

In east Tennessee, Gatlinburg and Pigeon Forge are at the doorstep of Great Smoky Mountains National Park. At Dollywood in Pigeon Forge, Heartsong Lodge & Resort and DreamMore Resort offer more than 32,000 square feet of total event space.

Franklin and Murfreesboro offer the ease of smaller towns with quick access to Nashville. Franklin's event space includes Franklin Marriott Cool Springs, Harpeth Hotel, and Embassy Suites by Hilton Nashville South Cool Springs. In Murfreesboro, the Embassy Suites by Hilton Nashville SE Murfreesboro has 63,000 square feet of function space. 🍷

- Maxwell House Coffee's famous slogan, "Good to the last drop," was allegedly coined in 1907 by President Theodore Roosevelt, who was served the house-blend coffee at the Maxwell House hotel and proclaimed it to be "good to the last drop."
- The first combination candy bar, the Goo Goo Cluster, was invented in Nashville in 1912.
- First intended as a new drink to mix with whiskey, Mountain Dew was invented in Knoxville in the 1930s.
- Sam Houston, who would go on to be the first president of the Republic of Texas, grew up in what would become Tennessee, near Maryville, and served as Tennessee's governor before moving west.

- The Grand Ole Opry has been broadcast continuously since November 1925 on WSM Radio in Nashville, making it the longest-running live radio program in the world.
- In 1927, the legendary Bristol sessions were some of the earliest country music ever recorded, leading the city to be designated by Congress as the "Birthplace of Country Music."

Graceland EVENTS THAT ROCK

By D. Fran Morley

Texas offers the infrastructure and inspiration to make meetings and events of all sizes and styles feel seamless and memorable, with destinations ranging from major metro areas to quaint Hill Country towns, wide-open plains and ranching communities, and beachfront cities and resorts on the Gulf. Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, and San Antonio are making significant investments in their convention centers and the surrounding districts. Other Texas destinations, such as Frisco, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Galveston, and Round Rock, give planners opportunities to create highly localized experiences in destinations with distinct character and regional appeal.

In Austin, the redevelopment and expansion of the Austin Convention Center continues in a $1.6 billion project that will nearly double the facility's rentable space, increasing it to 620,000 square feet, indoor and outdoor, while creating a more walkable, sustainable, and vibrant convention district. The redevelopment is expected to be completed in late 2028, with the center reopening in early 2029, according to tourism officials.

The Fort Worth Convention Center is undergoing a major expansion and renovation as part of more than $2 billion in downtown investment. The project includes a $95 million investment to add contemporary F&B facilities, an expanded southeast entrance near the Fort Worth Water Gardens and Texas A&M-Fort Worth, and increased loading dock capacity. The center remains open during construction, with full completion anticipated in early 2030.

In Houston, the George R. Brown Convention Center is set to undergo a major transformation that will reimagine downtown Houston into a pedestrian-friendly convention and entertainment district. The first phase of development includes the 700,000-square-foot GRB Houston South, projected to open in May 2028, with two exhibit halls, a multipurpose hall, an atrium flex hall, retail and dining spaces, and what is expected to be the largest ballroom in Texas.

Following its use as the international broadcast center for the FIFA 2026 World Cup, the Kay Bailey Hutchinson Convention Center in Dallas will be demolished and replaced by a new, larger facility as part of a $3.7 billion master plan to anchor a walkable downtown district. The next-generation venue will feature 750,000 square feet of exhibit space, 180,000 square feet of meeting rooms, and a 105,000 square-foot ballroom, plus outdoor event terraces and skyline-view plazas. The project is expected to be completed in 2029.

In San Antonio, the Convention Center District is poised for major redevelopment, as the city is advancing plans for a new sports and entertainment district as part of a 15-year master plan called Project Marvel. The vision includes an expanded Henry B. González Convention Center, a new convention center hotel, and a new downtown arena.

Other news in Texas includes a 2025 major renovation of the George H.W. Bush Gallery at the National Museum of the Pacific War in Fredericksburg and the 2027 opening of the 160,000-square-foot Alamo Visitors Center and Museum in San Antonio, which will combine historical storytelling with cutting-edge immersive elements. Universal Kids Resort, a new theme park concept from Universal Parks & Resorts, opened in July 2026 in Frisco with attractions and interactive shows for young park goers; in addition, a 300-room resort hotel is expected to open in late 2026. 🌵

- Covering 268,820 square miles, Texas is the second-largest state (after Alaska) and is larger than the entire country of France.
- Texas is the only U.S. state to enter the union by treaty, having been its own independent republic from 1836 to 1845.
- The soft drink Dr Pepper was created in 1885 by pharmacist Charles Alderton at Morrison's Old Corner Drugstore in Waco.

- The city of El Paso is 300-plus miles closer to Needles, Calif., than it is to Dallas.
- The saying, "Don't Mess with Texas," comes from a successful anti-litter campaign, launched in 1985 by the Texas Dept. of Transportation.

Within each city, listings are grouped by category starting with CVBs, convention and conference centers, followed by hotels, then unique venues.

Austin's New Convention Center: Built for Big Impact

Opening in Spring 2029, the $1.6 billion Austin Convention Center is a bold, next-generation destination designed to elevate future meetings and events. With expanded capacity, vibrant design, and smart functionality, it offers more ways to create memorable experiences. Secure your preferred dates early.

Zero Carbon. Zero Compromise

This modern, eco-forward venue is designed to become the world's first Convention Center to achieve ILFI Zero Carbon certification. Spanning six walkable downtown blocks, the reimagined facility features sustainable systems, intuitive wayfinding, and direct connections to the Waterloo Greenway and Waller Creek, making it ideal for attendees seeking convenience and a smaller environmental footprint.

Space That Inspires Action

Empower your event with 620,000 square feet of rentable space and 75,000 square feet of outdoor areas designed for standout activations. High-impact exhibit halls, fresh-air venues, a signature ballroom, and art-filled pre-function spaces deliver an environment that captivates from the moment guests arrive. And with a record $17.7 million public art program, the building surrounds every experience with dynamic, Austin-infused creativity, transforming each event into a truly unforgettable visual journey.

Trask House Returns

The historic Trask House, built in 1855, is returning to its original site, reviving one of Austin's few remaining 19th-century landmarks and opening new possibilities for cultural events and special gatherings.

At the Heart of Downtown

Steps from Lady Bird Lake, Sixth Street, and more than 15,000 hotel rooms, the center is positioned as Austin's most connected meeting hub. Bookings for 2029 and beyond are now open. Reserve your dates today and shape the next chapter of Austin's event experience.

THE conference room got an upgrade ISLAND

Why settle for four walls when you could collaborate at sea? On The Island, catamaran sails replace conference tables and networking feels like a night out. From large-scale meetings to small incentive groups, South Padre Island makes work feel less like work — and a whole lot more like discovery.

Kayaking the James River in Lynchburg

The capital city of Richmond

By Matt Swenson

Known as “The Home of Presidents,” the commonwealth of Virginia has produced eight U.S. presidents, including four of the first five. Richmond, the state capital, was also the capital of the Confederacy during the Civil War, adding another layer of historical significance. In addition to its rich history, Virginia’s many distinct regions and combination of historic venues, boutique and contemporary accommodations, and modern amenities continue to draw associations, corporations, nonprofits, and other groups for their annual conventions, board meetings, retreats, training, and more.

Arlington, Fairfax, and Loudoun counties continue to attract events, but the map for meeting planners is expanding further south. In Spotsylvania, Kalahari Resorts & Conventions is expected to open in November 2026. The fifth resort in Kalahari’s portfolio will include 907 guest rooms, 150,000 square feet of flexible event space, and an indoor waterpark. Closer to Washington, D.C., Loudoun County is renowned for its vineyards and unique venues, and Tysons Corner in Fairfax County is a staple for associations and corporations.

The largest meeting space in the state capital is the 700,000-square-foot Greater Richmond Convention Center. While boutique hotels and museums provide a nice sample of unique venues within city limits, the suburban counties of Henrico and Chesterfield expand the offerings. LIVE! Casino & Hotel Virginia is slated to open in Petersburg, 30 minutes south of Richmond, in late 2027. The $1.4 billion project includes 70,000 square feet of event space, complemented by a 200-room hotel, approximately 20 dining and entertainment venues, and a 4,000-seat entertainment center. Charlottesville, home to the University of Virginia, recently welcomed The Virginia Guesthouse, a 214-room hotel and conference center with more than 25,000 square feet of flexible meeting space and a capacity of 1,000 attendees.

As planners seek group experiences that blur the line between business and pleasure, Virginia Beach and Norfolk stand out for their coastal attractions and hospitality. Two gaming venues will come online in 2027—Landing Hotel Portsmouth and The Norfolk Casino—adding guest rooms, meeting space, and entertainment options. In nearby Williamsburg, the original state capital, the Greater Williamsburg Sports & Events Center opened earlier this summer. The $80 million, 200,000-square-foot facility is designed to seamlessly transform for sports tournaments, corporate meetings, expos, galas, and other events.

Scenic mountains and a strong dining scene make Virginia’s Blue Ridge, a collection of five counties and cities, including Roanoke, a popular destination for meetings and retreats. According to Visit Virginia’s Blue Ridge, the region hosted 53 meetings and conventions between 2024 and 2025, resulting in nearly 13,000 hotel rooms. 🍷

- Patrick Henry delivered his famous rallying cry, “Give me liberty, or give me death!” in Richmond at St. John’s Church in 1775.
- Bourbon’s roots trace back to Fayette County, originally in southwest Virginia, but the area became part of the new state of Kentucky when county lines were redrawn in 1792.
- Wavegarden Cove surf lagoon at the new Atlantic Park Surf in Virginia Beach is capable of producing up to 1,000 waves per hour.
- The restoration of Mount Vernon, George Washington’s home, is expected to be completed in fall 2026.
- Loudoun County is home to more than 50 wineries and tasting rooms.

HIGH-IMPACT MEETINGS IN HISTORIC WILLIAMSBURG

The White House

Having just played a central role in America's 250th birthday celebrations, Washington, D.C., continues to expand its appeal for meetings and conventions. Anchored by the Walter E. Washington Convention Center and Destination DC's (DDC) Connected Campus program, the nation's capital offers planners access to world-class venues, newly renovated hotels, distinctive offsite spaces, and direct connections to leaders in government, technology, healthcare, and policy.

The city's primary convention district, Penn Quarter & Chinatown, remains the centerpiece of D.C.'s meetings landscape. The LEED Platinum-certified Walter E. Washington Convention Center offers 703,000 square feet of exhibit space, 77 meeting rooms, and a 52,000-square-foot ballroom. Connected via underground concourse, the 1,175-room Marriott Marquis Washington, DC features more than 100,000 square feet of meeting space. Nearby, the 902-room Grand Hyatt Washington is completing renovations to more than 43,000 square feet of meeting space, while the 807-room Westin DC Downtown offers nearly 78,000 square feet of event facilities. Capital One Arena's ongoing $800 million redevelopment will introduce new premium event venues and hospitality spaces through 2027.

Downtown continues to see significant hotel investment. Recent renovations include the historic St. Regis Washington, DC, Capital Hilton, Washington Marriott at Metro Center, and the iconic Willard InterContinental Washington DC, which refreshed guest rooms and more than 22,000 square feet of event space. For large meetings, JW Marriott Washington, DC offers more than 40,000 square feet of function space, while Waldorf Astoria Washington DC features 34,000 square feet of event venues, including the 13,200-square-foot Presidential Ballroom. New inventory arrives with the anticipated opening of Tempo by Hilton Washington DC Downtown in 2026. The Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center remains one of the city's premier offsite venues, offering more than 65,000 square feet of meeting and exhibit space with a capacity of 5,000 attendees.

Capitol Hill combines proximity to government institutions with substantial meeting infrastructure. The recently transformed Hyatt Regency Washington on Capitol Hill completed a comprehensive renovation of guest rooms, conference facilities, and public spaces, maintaining more than 38,000 square feet of event space. Additional options include Hilton Washington DC Capitol Hill, YOTEL Washington DC, and Royal Sonesta Washington, DC Capitol Hill. Unique venues, such as the Library of Congress, Capitol View at 400, and the new Capital Jewish Museum, provide memorable settings for receptions, dinners, and executive meetings.

The Wharf has emerged as one of D.C.'s most sought-after event districts. Major venues include The Anthem, accommodating up to 3,000 guests for receptions, and Arena Stage at the Mead Center for American Theater. Hotels supporting the district include Salamander Washington DC, with more than 36,000 square feet of event space, InterContinental Washington D.C. – The Wharf, and Pendry Washington DC. Waterfront experiences, dining venues, and outdoor event spaces add flexibility for planners seeking distinctive attendee experiences.

The Capitol Riverfront & Navy Yard waterfront district offers a mix of sports venues, hotels, and unique event spaces. Nationals Park and Audi Field anchor DDC's Capitol Riverfront Campus, providing premium clubs, meeting facilities, and large-scale event capabilities. The Thompson Washington DC, AC Hotel Washington DC Capitol Hill Navy Yard, and District Winery offer modern meeting environments, while HQO Events delivers more than 30,000 square feet of flexible event space overlooking the Anacostia River.

Known for luxury accommodations and walkable charm, Georgetown and the West End continue to attract executive meetings and incentive groups. Leading properties include Four Seasons Hotel Washington, DC, Fairmont Washington D.C. Georgetown, Ritz-Carlton Georgetown, and Ritz-Carlton Washington, D.C. New developments include the upcoming Hoya Hotel and the reopening of citizenM Georgetown following renovation and expansion, adding fresh inventory to one of the city's most desirable meeting districts.

Several other neighborhoods offer valuable options for planners. Dupont Circle and Shaw feature major meeting hotels, such as Washington Hilton and The Mayflower Hotel. The National Mall continues to add new museum exhibits and event opportunities, including the reopening of the National Air and Space Museum galleries and the new National Geographic Museum of Exploration. NoMa and Union Market remain popular for creative offsite events, highlighted by Dock5 and the anticipated opening of MOB Hotel in 2027. 🍷

Within each city, listings are grouped by category starting with CVBs, convention and conference centers, followed by hotels, then unique venues.

Downtown Square in Martinsburg

By D. Fran Morley

West Virginia's spacious landscapes, uncrowded mountain towns (no city has more than 50,000 population), and endless adventure options offer the perfect setting for unforgettable events. From hiking and rafting to ziplining, mountain biking, and exploring the state's history, there are activities and attractions for all attendees to enjoy before, during, or after an event. Call it The Mountain State, say it's "Wild & Wonderful" or "Almost Heaven," West Virginia lives up to all three state mottos.

The town of Fayetteville is home to the New River (actually, millions of years old), the country's newest national park, New River Gorge National Park, and the new Hill Hall, a 40-room boutique hotel with a small dining and gathering spot in its restaurant and bar, Patsy's. A former school dating from 1923, Hill Hall is a great basecamp for exploring New River Gorge National Park and Preserve, according to the West Virginia Dept. of Tourism.

The state's unique meeting and event spots include The Schoolhouse Hotel in White Sulphur Springs, a boutique inn with a ballroom that can accommodate 300 guests; the Resort at Glade Springs, with 15,000 square feet of meeting space and a capacity of 450 guests; and Stonewall Resort in Roanoke, the state's only lakeside conference center, with 20,000 square feet of IACC-approved space on two levels, including a 4,183-square-foot ballroom. The 11,000-acre Snowshoe Mountain Resort offers year-round activities, group event space for up to 100 guests, and corporate teambuilding options.

In the state capital of Charleston, the 358-room Charleston Marriott Town Center offers 10,831 square feet of indoor event space, including a 700-seat ballroom. Charleston Coliseum & Convention Center includes the 100,000-square-foot convention center, a 13,500-seat coliseum, the 3,483-seat Municipal Auditorium, and a 738-seat theater.

In the eastern panhandle, a historically preserved and protected train facility is now a 500-person-capacity event space, known as the historic Martinsburg Roundhouse. In Huntington, Hillbilly Hot Dogs is known for serving the "World's Largest Hot Dog," and Clarksburg and neighboring Marion County boast stops on the West Virginia Pepperoni Roll Trail that features the state's official food, created 100 years ago by Italian immigrant coal miners. Clarksburg's event space includes The Morris, which features a 10,000-square-foot event room. In Marion County, the Robert H. Mollohan Research Center includes a 150-seat auditorium and an 8,500-square-foot exhibition hall. Parkersburg is home to the new Center on Market, which includes an 8,000-square-foot multipurpose room seating 800 theater style.

In the seven-county area known as "Mountaineer Country," Morgantown's Marriott at Waterfront Place has space to host 2,000 people for receptions or seat 1,500 for banquets. Nearby, Lakeview Golf Resort & Spa has 24,000 square feet of event space.

In Greenbrier Valley, The Greenbrier is a historic 11,000-acre resort with more than 200,000 square feet of function space. In Wheeling, Oglebay Resort has 30,000 square feet of event space. 🍷

- West Virginia is the only state formed by breaking away from a Confederate state during the Civil War and the only state admitted to the Union by a presidential proclamation (signed by Abraham Lincoln in 1863) rather than an act of Congress.
- The world's first brick-paved streets were in the state capital of Charleston in 1870.
- A pilot program in Charles Town in 1896 launched the nation's rural free mail delivery.
- Outdoor advertising got its start in Wheeling when the Bloch Brothers Tobacco Co. painted the slogan, "Chew Mail Pouch Tobacco, Treat Yourself to the Best," on bridges and barns.
- In 1947, W.Va. native Chuck Yeager became the first pilot to fly faster than the speed of sound.

Within each city, listings are grouped by category starting with CVBs, convention and conference centers, followed by hotels, then unique venues.

Large Format and Display Graphics

One of the most powerful tools marketers have at their disposal is large format printing. The possibilities are endless plus large format printing provides the lowest cost per marketing impression of any marketing medium. Signs, banners, and wall and floor graphics provide businesses with effective and affordable solutions to generate and expand their brand awareness.

One Contact. Every Detail.
Shoreside Productions is a full-service event production and media company serving clients nationwide. From event production and management to photography, video, A/V, graphic design, and sponsorship development, we handle every detail under one roof, so planners get one point of contact instead of juggling multiple vendors. Our team brings the same care and consistency to every event we produce, ensuring your event runs smoothly from first concept to final wrap.
Incentives: Book Shoreside Productions for A/V, video, and photography by October 1, 2026, and receive a complimentary A/V consultation for your event — a $1,000+ value — one team, one point of contact, nothing slips through the cracks.

Custom Event Socks
Sock Club designs and manufactures custom socks that meeting and event planners use to make their brand impossible to forget. Every pair is knit in the USA with a 3-day turnaround, and our design team builds free custom mockups with unlimited revisions, so you can approve artwork fast and keep your event timeline on track. With minimums starting at just 30 pairs, Sock Club works for everything from an intimate executive retreat to a 5,000-attendee convention.
Incentives: Custom-knit socks made with 75% US-grown cotton for a premium feel your attendees will actually wear. Free samples, free design, unlimited revisions—see the quality before you commit.
